One More Chance

The decision Thursday of the House of Representatives to give the voluntary enlistment plan one more chance before plunging into conscription is a wise one. Especially because it will not delay conscription should the latter become necessary. The amendment adopted by the lower chamber simply provides that a call be issued for 400,000 volunteers in the next 60 days. If they are forthcoming there will be no conscription; if they aren't forthcoming, conscription must follow — and the 60-day option will make no difference, because the Army says it won't be ready for the men before that time anyway.

House Orders 60-Day Trial of Volunteers

Would Hold Off
Conscription Unless 400,000
Aren't Enlisted

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house refused twice Friday to change the registration age limit of 21 to 44, inclusive, in the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill.

On a voice vote Representative Rees lost in an effort to broaden the spread to include men from 21 to 44, inclusive, and Representative Anderson was defeated, 161 to 47, in an attempt to make the brackets conform to the senate figures 21-30, inclusive.

To Try Volunteers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Tentatively, the house overrode managers of the peace-time draft bill Thursday night and voted 185 to 135 to give the voluntary enlistment system a 60-day trial before conscription for the army. It adopted an amendment, offered by Representative Fish (Rep. N. Y.), under which the draft would not become effective if 400,000 or more recruits present themselves within that period. If a lesser number should apply, enough men would be drafted to bring the total to 400,000 the number of recruits the War Department wants by the end of the year.

A similar amendment was rejected by the senate, 41 to 43, before it passed the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory training bill.

Under House rules managers of the bill may, and unquestionably will, demand a roll-call vote later. With time to repair their lines, they predicted they would produce a majority against the amendment.

The result was hardly considered to mean the bill was threatened with defeat. Numerous members said if the amendment was adopted they would support the bill.

The Debate
Fish and other supporters of the proposal argued it would "in no way hinder or delay" the national defense program, since War Department plans contemplated the induction of no conscripts before November 8 or 10.

Advocates of immediate conscription denounced the amendment as one with two purposes: To "scuttle" the measure, or postpone the essential issue until after the presidential election. Its acceptance, Representative Cox (Dem., Ga.) said, would prove the House consists of an "aggregation of miserably cowardly politicians."

The House author of the bill, Representative Wadsworth (Rep. N. Y.) said the Fish amendment would "throw a monkey wrench into the whole machinery" of expanding the army. If 400,000 volunteers were added in the next 60 days, he said, the army would not be able to provide them with housing.

Open Style of Football Seen for Bobcats

None of Teams
Have Weight
"for Straight Football," Hammons

Hope fans will see a different brand of football this season—for one reason, because few high school teams this year will have the weight to play "straight football"—Coach Foy Hammons told Hope Rotary club at its Friday noon luncheon in Hotel Barlow.

Describing the prospects for the Bobcats, who open their 1940 season at Haynesville, La., Friday night, September 13, Coach Hammons said:

No Veterans
"Training this year's squad reminds me of breaking in a young colt. You have always heard it said that in breaking in a colt it helps if you take an old horse along. Well, we don't have any old horses. This year's team will be about 22 pounds lighter, on the average, and one year and nine months younger, than previous teams. The boys are small, but smart."

"We will probably get the socks beat off us in the first couple of games—but by mid-season we should have a pretty good football team."

The fans will probably enjoy this year's brand of football more than in other seasons. There should be more scoring—more passing—because all the other teams are in the same fix as ourselves, with perhaps the exception of Blytheville and El Dorado. Blytheville has eight seasoned men, and El Dorado either five or seven.

"The 1940 Bobcats will have good

Friday to Be Homecoming Day at Fair

Many Ex-Hope
Residents Are Expected to Return Sept. 13

Friday, September 13, has been designated as Homecoming day at the Hempstead County Free Fair to be held here September 9-14, and plans are being made to make it the biggest day of the fair.

Oren Harris, recently nominated congressman from this district, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Harris, who has just returned from a defense board meeting at Kansas City where he represented southwest Arkansas, will address the crowd at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Anyone having relatives of friends who have at one time lived in Hope is asked to get in touch with them and ask them to return for this day. Hundreds of ex-Hope residents are expected.

The fair will officially open Tuesday with a mile-long parade through the downtown section and will end at the fair park, Wednesday has been designated as School day; Thursday as livestock day, and Friday as Homecoming day.

An advance sound-truck arrived here Thursday and is now advertising the fair in every town and community within a 30-mile radius of Hope. The truck belongs to the De Lang shows, which will feature 14 rides and many sideshows during the fair.

One of the features, besides the many exhibits, shows and concessions, is the patriotic pageant, "America on Parade," which is produced by the John B. Rodgers Producing co. and will be presented three nights during the fair. The pageant is directed by Miss Martha Jean Robinson, and has a cast of 1300 local people.

Loets entered by the Home Ice Co. and Liberty Community were added Friday to a list of more than 65 previously entered.

A Thought

The Lord therefore be judge, and judge between me and thee, and see, and plead my cause, and deliver me out of thine hand.—Samuel 24:15.

One of the Dee Lang Show's Rides at Hempstead County Free Fair

Snapped at a recent Children's matinee, the above dare-devil ride is only one of the 14 big, modern rides of the De Lang's Famous Shows which are scheduled at the Hempstead County Free Fair next week, September 9-14. The Octopus, Skooter, and Caterpillar, to mention a few, are among the other big thrillers.

Miss Dorothy Henry, who has been pushing Miss Hendrix closely all week, remained in second place, and was followed by Miss Elizabeth Hendrix.

The contest will close Saturday afternoon at 6:30 at which time the winner will be announced. The queen of the fair and her maids will head the mammoth parade which formally opens the fair here Tuesday afternoon. She will also play an important part

Abdication

BUCHAREST — (AP) — King Carol, yielding to demands of Rumania's new military dictatorship and riotous clamor in the streets, abdicated Friday in favor of his 18-year-old son Mihai and fled into exile aboard the royal yacht.

Reported with him was red-haired Magda Lupescu, an associate for more than a decade when he relinquished the right of succession to his throne for a gay Paris exile and let Prince Mihai reign as a child monarchy under regency. Destination of the royal yacht which sailed into the black sea from Constanta was not known.

Back of him in troubled and dismembered Rumania Carol left his son as a front to the Axis-aligned military dictatorship which has already started a wholesale roundup of important political figures in Carol's decade of power.

French Accede to Jap Demand

Give Jap Army
Right-of-Way
in Indo-China

HONGKONG — (AP) — A preliminary agreement giving Japan right-of-way in French Indo-China for a backdoor attack on China in an effort to wind up the three-year-old war was reported Thursday night at Hanoi.

This concession of a "limited" right to land Japanese troops and supplies at Haiphong was said to have been reached between Tokyo and the Vichy government of France. It still was subject to negotiation.

Threat of an invasion of Indo-China, essence of a Japanese ultimatum of Monday, appeared to have passed. One explanation was that Major General Nishihara, Japanese negotiator-in-chief, had overstepped himself. Confronted with a French warning of armed resistance to any invasion and a declaration acquiescence was forbidden by Vichy. Nishihara, under pressure from Tokyo, re-entered conversations with French colonial officials.

Season's Largest Watermelon, 151 Pounds, Grown by J. A. Porterfield, Is Shipped by Hope Chamber of Commerce to New York World's Fair

Despite the wettest, coolest summer in the South since 1905, Hempstead county, home of the world's largest commercial watermelons, produced a 151-pounder this season, grown by John A. Porterfield of Patmos.

It was bought by by Hope Chamber of Commerce and Hope's business firms and shipped Wednesday to the New York World's fair, to be placed in the Arkansas exhibit.

The world's record was set by O. D. Middlebrooks, also of Patmos, when he produced a 195-pound melon, which was presented to Dick Powell, Arkansas-born film star, in 1935.

Mr. Porterfield's 151-pound melon and a group of local girls were photographed above on the Hope city hall lawn by The Star just before the melon was shipped to New York.

The Star acknowledges with thanks the help of Mrs. John P. Vesey in arranging a series of group pictures, of which this is one.

Introduced as guest speaker by Mrs. Carlton was Mrs. Laura D. Cole of Grinnell, Arkansas. Mrs. Cole is a nationally known authority on the subject of horticulture and has addressed classes at Howard University. Her most interesting talk on various forms of wild plants familiar to this section of the country was followed by a round table discussion.

Tasteful arrangements of white flowers were used in the dining room, while red radishes roses were noted in the living room and pink radishes roses adorned the library. Nine tables were arranged for the players. Mrs. Sally Broening received the high score award and Miss Harriet Story was awarded consolation prize.

Little Misses Sue and Virginia Carroll Henry and Master George Richard Henry "intruded" during the afternoon to bring a large laundry basket filled with lively gifts of linen for the honoree.

The hostess served delightful refreshments in the bridal motif to the players and several tea guests.

Tigers Again Take Indians

Detroit Wins 11-3 for Third Straight Victory

DETROIT — (AP) — The collapsing Cleveland Indians, playing like anything but potential American League champions, lost their fourth consecutive game Thursday to sag within two games of the Detroit Tigers, their conquerors, and the crushing New York Yankees. The score was 11 to 3 and for the second straight day Detroit homers clinched the issue and sent 18,508 Tiger followers home happy.

Rudy York and former Indian Bruce Campbell each hit a four-base drive with two teammates on base to wreck Cleveland's hopes of drawing even in the three-game series which ends tomorrow. Campbell also homered.

Al Smith Routed
Neither starting pitcher survived. Al Smith, Cleveland southpaw, left the scene after allowing eight Detroit runs in seven innings. Tommy Bridges of the Tigers yielded to big Alton Benson in the fifth, when the Indians scored all their runs. Benton, Detroit's No. 1 relief fliker, was invincible the rest of the way.

The Tigers scored single runs in the second and third innings and clusters of three in the sixth, seventh and eighth.

In the second big Hank Greenberg opened with the first of his two home runs.

SERIAL STORY
LOVE ON THE LINE
BY PAUL FRIGGENS

YESTERDAY, Mark rode Ed Taylor at the barn, leaving Carrie had come to the Taylor's. But with the fire at the creek, both men realize Mrs. Taylor and Carrie face new dangers. Mark rode to Taylor's, hoping that the women have taken the wagon to town. He finds the wagon overturned, and burns in their stable.

CHAPTER XI
TERROR froze Mark Deuel's heart as he stood in Taylor's yard, watching the fire licking closer, listening to the shrieking wind, and knowing Carrie and Mrs. Taylor had not escaped in the wagon.

For a long moment he seemed stunned, stood looking in at the horses through the gaping hole the wind had torn in the corner of Ed Taylor's barn. He was clammy with the thought of what might have happened to the women. A cyclone had ripped through Taylor's, raked the roof off one side of the barn, upset the wagon.

The wagon! The wagon! That was it.

Mark remembered the overturned wagon by the dugout. With the first fury of that storm Carrie and Mrs. Taylor would have rushed for the shelter of Ed's shallow cellar. The wagon had overturned on the heavy door, pinning them in. Mark saw it all clearly now.

With a cry, he ran from the barn to the dugout, calling, "Carrie! Carrie!—Mrs. Taylor! Are you in there? Are you all right?" But the wind swept his words away.

He reached the cellar, saw the storm had overturned only the light wagon box and that the door was free of the wheels. Almost frantically then, Mark tugged at the box, pulling it away.

"Carrie! Mrs. Taylor!" he shouted as he jerked the heavy box.

"Mark—Mark!" It was Carrie. "That you, Ed?" came a second voice.

With one final heave, Mark cleared the door, pulled it open. Carrie and Mrs. Taylor, white and disheveled, stood before him.

EXACTLY what happened after that Mark never knew except that Mrs. Taylor was inquiring anxiously about Ed, he was reassuring her, and Carrie, crying softly, was close in his arms. It seemed an eternity they stood there, before he remembered that they were in greater danger than ever. The fire was burning straight toward the soddy. No crew of fighters could stop it now. He ordered the women to go to

15 Henderson Veterans Back

Football Candidates Begin Reporting Monday

By JIM GREENE
Director, Deddie News Bureau
ARKADELPHIA—A number of candidates for the Henderson State Teachers College Reddie football team began arriving this week-end and more are expected to arrive during the week. Coach Tom Murphy has issued equipment to all those who are present, and said that a number of others would report soon.

Approximately 25 veterans will be missing from the 15 letters of 1939. Eight received their diplomas and the other seven will not return because of various reasons. Among the veterans expected to be back are the following: Ralph James, 188-pound fullback and co-captain elect; Fletcher Kizka, another flashy fullback; Raymond Crussell, star center and candidate for all-state this season; C. R. Snapp, guard from Batesville; Hugh Reese, end from Hope; Dan Nall, halfback; Dodge Phillips, halfback; Bradley Davis, sophomore from Little Rock who will probably succeed Lycester Varnado, 1939 captain, in the signal-calling role; Harold Maciejewski, 190-pound guard from Loup City, Neb.; Buddy Parker, back from Benton; Tyman Stephens of Nacogdoches, Texas; Frde Hardke, back from Carlisle; Jack Roy, guard from Loup City, Neb., and Ed Confer, tackle, from Alabama.

Among the reserves for last year who are returning are Joe Kearney of Little Rock, L. Styles of Bauxite, Donald Byrne of Little Rock, Vick Royal of Buford, Ga., Jack McDonald of Tampa, Fla., Clyde Needham of Subiaco, George Green of El Dorado, Ned Bennett of Jersey City, N. J., Vernon Files of Augusta, and several others.

Coach Murphy said that he expected about 22 new men to report this year. He will begin giving plays to the new men immediately in preparation for the non-letterman contest with the Ouachita College rookies on the night of September 20.

Murphy said that the most difficult task would be to replace the tackles and ends. The graduation of Earl Kissell, and the loss of Dick Moore and Bert Patterson in the tackle positions has weakened that part of the line a great deal. The only veteran tackle is Ed Confer, so it will be necessary to either do some shifting or to use new material to double and race home as Jeff Heath muffed York's fly ball against the screen in left.

The next inning Bridges doubled an then moved to third when Ken Keltner batted Dick Bartlett's easy grounder. The Tiger pitcher scored when Campbell forced Bartlett.

All the other post. Among the most promising candidates are Jack McDonald, who entered H. S. T. C. at mid-term last year and who showed up well in spring practice. For this flank position, the only veteran end in Hugh Reese, junior, from Hope. The greatest loss here is the absence of Percy Rhinsey, co-captain-elect, from Hope. Rhinsey was recently accepted in the U. S. Army Air Corps, and will report to Randolph Field within a short time. Among the field candidates are L. Styles of Bauxite; Tyman Stephens of Texas; Vick Royal of Buford, Ga., and a number of freshmen.

Although the names of the new men are not yet ready for publication, one of the most promising athletes is Dale Miller, transfer from Arkansas Tech. Miller finished the two-year course at the Wenden Boy school last year and earned Henderson this summer. He was one of the best passers in the state last season.

The Reddies will play 12 games this season. The schedule is as follows: Sept. 20—Ouachita (non-letterman). Sept. 27—Hendrix, here.

Oct. 4—Stephen F. Austin, here.

Oct. 11—Arkansas Tech, at Russellville.

Oct. 18—L. S. U. Northeast Center, here.

Sermon subjects for the next few nights are: Friday night, "Sin As Black As Night," Sunday night, "The Unpardonable Sin," Monday night, "Men or Grasshoppers." SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Religion Finds Chief Strength in Faith Experience and Convictions
Text: Psalm 96

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Religion is a social thing. It takes its rise and it finds its strength in individual faith, experience and convictions. But no man can be religious alone. Certainly he cannot be a follower of the Christian religion alone because, as soon as he professes to worship God as a Father, he is inevitably associated with others of God's family.

The man of religion, whose heart exalts in praise, cannot keep his joy to himself. It is his duty to tell of his gratitude to God for His grace and mercy, he is bound to proclaim it in some way to his fellows.

All this finds striking illustration in the beautiful 96th Psalm, which constitutes our lesson, and in Psalms 97 and 98 that are associated with it. The Golden Text also emphasizes this "togetherness" of religion: "Oh magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together."

Singing is the essence of praise, and where praise is real it is always bursting forth in new songs—although the old and beautiful songs are never discarded, but grow richer as time goes by.

Here in the lesson the Psalmist calls upon those who listen to sing unto Jehovah "a new song." The song that he sings and in which he would have us join is now an old song, but it is ever new. It is a song with a worldwide note. Its emphasis is in the salvation that comes from the Lord, but its atmosphere is not the narrow atmosphere of a single soul or a single tribe people, even of a chosen race.

"Declare his glory among the nations," says the Psalmist. "His marvelous works among all the peoples." Would God that we could do that today, that among nations organized for violence and hatred we could so declare the glory of God that His righteousness would be praised and feared. The Psalmist says that God reigns, and that He will judge the peoples with equity. If we doubt that, we must look over the whole range of history. The story of fallen empires, the great and powerful despoiled, is the story of God's judgment.

Judgment—that is the thing which we should be emphasizing today. It is judgment that has brought war upon our world. When men are greedy and selfish and violent, or when even with their own peaceful dispositions, they allow men who are greedy and selfish and violent to dominate things, how in a world of law can they result anything but strife and trouble?

If there were no consequences of evil, we might indeed doubt the reality of righteousness and the possibility of success of God's judgments.

So, let us take confidence, even in dark days like these, in the assurance of the Psalmist that the Lord will judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples with His truth.
